

Your event is our passion

We are more than your competent technology partner

Our whole attention belongs to you

Your event is especially demanding in terms of its technical implementation?

It's a high-level meeting and its success is of vital importance to you?

During the run-up to your event it is necessary to communicate intensively with everyone involved?

Use our full-scale services. We gladly support you as your personal adviser and expert – focusing on all technically relevant issues.

Since 2001, we realize as a team of the Gruenebaum Event Logistic successful events with our customized convention- and conference technology.

As a full-service provider for event logistics we understand, that extraordinary moments arise with the combination of professional technology and accurate preparation.

Your event is an affair of the heart for us.

With our advice we attend you, individually and as per your instructions and the unique requirements, through your event with our team.

Thoughtful, competent, charming and discreet.
